The British Number Plate Manufacturers Association

By email

Dear BNMA,

I am writing to thank you for your work in supporting the introduction of number plates with the new UK identifier, and for making UK motorists' lives easier by offering international travel compliant plates.

I also welcome the design and specification information sheet that BNMA has produced and am happy to confirm that the specifications are compliant with domestic and international law for the purposes of the display of the national identifier.

While your members will no doubt want to offer a range of options to customers, I would be grateful if you could encourage your members to refer to this document as the default design and specification for number plates produced in Great Britain.

We feel that this will provide a consistent approach and help to ensure that vehicles are compliant with international road traffic conventions when taken abroad.

Yours sincerely,

David Batty
Co-Director, Road Safety, Services and Standards
